GRESHAM COLLEGE

“The accompanying texts to the lectures have been a lifeline during the grey winter months. It lifts my spirits to go on the Gresham College website and find a new batch awaiting me!”

Lynn McCaw, supporter

Gresham College was founded in 1597 thanks to a bequest in Sir Thomas Gresham's Will. It was because of his visionary outlook that we have been able to offer free public lectures of the highest academic quality, to learners of all ages and backgrounds, for over 400 years.

We are grateful to those who choose to follow in Sir Thomas' footsteps and leave a gift in their Will to support Gresham College. Support of this nature helps us to plan for the future to help with our mission – to share world-class knowledge with every corner of the world and with more people from a broader range of backgrounds; to enhance our academic programme with innovative new formats and subject areas; and to recruit some of the brightest minds as Gresham Professors and speakers.

No matter how large or small, a gift in your Will to support Gresham College is a true marker of your belief in our mission to make world-class knowledge freely accessible to the public.

“Gresham College has been a pillar for my professional development. It delivers on a worthy cause: education for all.”

Amritpal Gill,
Friend of Gresham College

THE IMPACT OF SUPPORTING GRESHAM COLLEGE

Gresham College would not exist today had Sir Thomas Gresham not left the necessary provisions in his Will. Since 1597, the College's founding sponsors – the Mercers' Company and the City of London Corporation – have fulfilled Sir Thomas' bequest and his vision for accessible education. As an institution, we exemplify the impact you can have by making a charitable donation in your Will.

Gresham College's core principle has remained unchanged for over 400 years: world-class education should be accessible to all. Our lectures, talks and videos are available free of charge to the public.

Whilst our mission remains the same, the way Gresham College delivers this work has evolved and expanded significantly since our inception. We now operate in a global community, where Gresham College lectures and videos can be enjoyed all over the world. Alongside Sir Thomas Gresham's legacy, support from individuals helps the College to go above and beyond our core offering and expand its reach.

TYPES OF GIFTS IN YOUR WILL

No matter your health or financial situation, it is important to make a Will, with the help of a solicitor or legal adviser. A Will is the only way to be sure that your assets go where you intend them.

To support Gresham College in your Will, the two most common types of gifts are:

Residuary gifts – leaving a percentage, or sometimes all, of an estate after all other payments have been made.

Pecuniary gifts – leaving a specific sum of money.

We recommend that you explore all options with your solicitor. It is important that the gift is described precisely in your Will so that the executors are clear on what you intended.

You may also wish to leave a particular item, also known as a specific legacy, which can either be sold or used by the recipient. Should you wish to leave a specific legacy, we would recommend contacting our team (see last page for contact details) so we can discuss your wishes and the suitability of the gift.

If you are looking for guidance on how to write your Will, you can visit Citizens Advice (www.citizensadvice.org.uk) or Will Aid (www.willaid.org.uk) for further information. If you are a member of a trade union, you may find that the union offers a free Will writing service.

Professor Bernardine Evaristo

Professor Bernardine Evaristo, Gresham College Speaker

"It is a pleasure to support Gresham College. I am a lifelong learner who appreciates Gresham's mission of expanding knowledge through delivering lectures on a wide range of topics. While I live in the United States, I visit London a few times a year and enjoy attending lectures in person. Keep up the great work – I hope to be back again soon! In the meantime, I'll enjoy watching online."

INHERITANCE TAX AND TAX RELIEF

Leaving a gift to charity in your Will can help reduce, or even remove, the tax burden on your estate. Your solicitor will be able to explain how the Inheritance Tax rules apply to you and your particular circumstances.

WHAT IS INHERITANCE TAX?

Inheritance tax (IHT) is charged at a rate of 40% on estates over the IHT threshold. The threshold is currently set at £325,000 which means that any part of your estate above that value may be taxed.

WHAT ARE THE TAX BENEFITS OF LEAVING A GIFT IN YOUR WILL TO CHARITY?

Charities registered in the UK are exempt from Inheritance Tax so a gift in your Will can reduce the taxable value of your estate, whilst benefitting a good cause.

Leaving a gift of 10 per cent or more of the net value over the IHT threshold to charity also reduces the rate of IHT on your estate from 40% to 36%.

To ensure your Will is drafted correctly to take advantage of the reduced IHT rate, we strongly advise you consult your solicitor.

EXAMPLE OF TAX BENEFITS

Total value of estate	Proportion of taxable estate given to charity	Amount given to charity	Tax rate	Amount paid in tax	Amount given to loved ones
£825,000	0%	£0	40%	£200,000	£625,000
£825,000	10%	£50,000	36%	£180,000	£595,000
